water in a fact that the convention endorse Judge Parker for the nomination. Instead of the usual unit rule I suggest that the convention direct that the chairman of the delegation cast the vote of the twenty-four delegates as a majority of the delegation may direct. There is no doubt that a majority will favor the nomination of Judge Parker, I think, but it may be that circumstances may arise in the convention when it may be found desirable to divide the vote of the delegation. Under a cast from unit rule and instructions, the solid vote would have to be given to Judge Parker, but if the convention simply endorses, and puts the delegates under this modified unit rule, the strength and influence of the delegation may be exerted to the fullest and most beneficial extent. I simply make these suggestions as worthy of the consideration of the cenvention."

GREAT CROWD COMING.

Likely to be Fifteen Hundred Pelegates Here.

Denicers are not arriving rapidly to attend the State convention on Thursday. One or two men of prominence are in the city, and many more are expected to-night, but it is not expected that there will be anything like a crowd here until wednesday night.

The hotels are expecting to be crowded. It is believed that at least 1,200 off the 1,500 delegates entitled to seats in the convention will come to Richmond, and it has been the experience in the past that about as many spectators come to State conventions as delegates, possibly more.

that about as many speciators come to State conventions as delegates, possibly more.

The amendments which the convention is expected to make to the primary plan are expected to provoke more discussion than any other with which the body will have to deal. The amendments will be proposed by a subcommittee of the State Committee appointed at the last meeting to draft amendments to perfect and strengthen the system. This committee will meet Wednesday night.

It is generally believed that this committee will recommend that the secretianly be adopted instead of the viva voce system. There will be some opposition to this change.

The question of paying judges and clerks of primary elections will also come up. The subcommittee will deal with this subject. It is believed that the sentiment of the party is favorable to allowing cities and counties to arrange this matter as they may see fit.

It is well known that Representative William A. Jones, of the First District, is strongly in favor of an amendment to the present primary plaq by which provision will be made that the polls be located in some easily accessible place, and that each candidate voted for be allowed a representative inside the polling piace from the time the vote is counted. It is not believed there will be opposition to consequence to these amends.

How, John F. Ryan, of Loudoun, the present presents of the House of Deleviters are sent the House of Deleviters.

John F. Ryan, of Loudoun, the Hon, John F. Ryan, of Loudoun, the veteran speaker of the House of Delegates, is being urged by his friends for a place as delegate at large. It does not seem to have been generally known that he would be in the race, and should he not be chosen. It is safe to say that his defeat will be largely due to the fact that his candidacy was not so generally known as was that of several piners mentioned in connection with the place.

HEARST TO GET ILLINOIS.

Democratic Leaders of the State Arrange the Deal.

A Chicago special of Sunday to the Washington Post says:

Washington Post saws;
William Randolph Hearst, will be endorsed by the Illinois Democratic State convention as its candidate for the presidential nomination. That was practically decided at a round-up of Democratic held at the Sherman House to-day.
There were present Democratic politicians from La Saile, the McLean, the Peoria, the Sangamon, and the St. Clair county Congressional Districts. These are the communities in which Hearst has shown some strength, but not cought to control. The people present were all members of the anti-Hearst faction. They came to consult with Roser Sullivan. e to consult with Roger Sullivan, P. Hepkins and their friends in the John P. Hopkins and their friends in the State convention."

The question was whether a fight should be made against Hearst or whether the resolution of endorsement should go through unopposed. The Chicago people settled the matter. They represented that they had made a practical deal with the Hearst forces at the Democratic primaries in Cook county on May 2d, and must stand by the bar-gain. The others agreed, and so there is now practically no opposition to the Hearst endorsement, except such as Mayor Harrison and Congressman Wil-liams may be able to make. That is not liams may be able to make. That is not regarded as serious.

As a candidate for national committeeman to oppose Mayor Harrison, Phil Dunlop, of Jacksonville, was talked about. Dunlop is the Bryan manager in Illinois, and had charge of the Hearst campaign outside of Chicago, He will represent the real Hearst strength beyond what the Hopkins-Sullivan people can do for the Hearst endorsement. It was figured out yesterday there was no chance of Mayor Harrison being the man.

MAKING PREPARATIONS.

State Committee Selects Temporary Officers To-morrow. The State Democratic Committee will meet to-morrow evening to select temporary officers of the convention, and so far as can be forecast, their recommendations will be: Temporary Chairman, George E. Cassell, of Radford: Temporary Secretary, Colonel Joseph Button, of Appennation: Sergeantsat-Arms, W. P. Leamon, Richmond, These, if reported, will be rationally by the convention.

Judge Wilt gave orders that no one should be allowed to see the Councilman except on an order of the count, and then only in the presence of the jail authorities.

Commonwealth's Attorney Richardson kindly gave a reprosentative of The Times-Dispatch last night the information imparted to him by several witnesses before they went before the jury.

He said that one of them told him that West had informed him (the witness) that on the night of the recent primary, when councilmen were nominated, he (West) had been approached at Sanger Hall, where the returns were being received, and offered him $1,500 to absent himself from the next meeting of the Street Committee. This was after the body had voted 7 to 7 between the asphalt and bitulithic pavements, Mr. West voting for the former. The witness said West told him he had denounced the man offering the bribe in unmeasured terms, and had told him he would expose him but for the respect he had for his family; that the offer would never have been made except that it was known that he (West) was a poor man.

'Another witness told Judge Richardson that West said he had been offered $509 for his vote, and that he had resented this proposition.

Still another told of a conversation he had had with West, in which the latter talked of alleged propositions to bribe him, and he said the latter took from his pocket the key to his printing establishment, and holding it up, said: "I could keep this if I would vote as they want me to vote..."

'The anonymous letter, reference to which was made in The Times-Dispatch of Sunday, relating to the alleged use of money in connection with, the paving contracts, had, nothing to do with instituting the inquiry before the grand jury.

A copy of this letter is in the hands of Judge Richardson, but he started the in-vestigation upon information obtained from other sources, the first link of which came to him over a week ago.

While Captain J. H. Redwood was a witness before the grand jury, it was not he who gave the information to Judge
Richardson, as was stated in another pa-oer.

If Mr. West shall finally decide to tes tify further, and if he shall disclose the name of the person whom he alleges offered to bribe him, the latter will be brought hefore the grand jury and the truth of the allegation gone into.

King, of Jefferson Ward, of bribe taking, and because during the entire investigation at that time, Judge Richardson was vainly trying to find out the name of a man who was alleged to be in the habit of offering bribes in connection with city contracts. Not be Candidate.

(By Associated Press.)

DOVER, DEL., June 8.—After a conference of Democrat leaders who are here to attend to-morrow's State convention, lasting nearly until midnight, a compromise was agreed upon between the gray forces and Senator Kenny's supporters. It was agreed that the State convention shall not instruct the delegates to the national convention for George R. Gray for President, but shall adopt a resolution, "requesting" the Delaware delegates to place in nomination the name of Judge George R. Gray for President of the United States.

It was rumored here to-night that Judge Gray will send a communication to the State convention to the effect that he is not a candidate for the presidential nomination and requesting that his name be not considered. If this rumor turns out to be true and the convention takes Judge Gray at his word, it is possible that a resolution favoring W. R. Hearst that a resolution (avoring W. R. Hearst will be presented.
